Dear Ruth Hailed As Great Hit

The Crimson O players who appeared before record crowds in the auditorium of Campbell hall both Thursday and Friday nights are to be congratulated on their fine presentation of "Dear Ruth."

This comedy, which centered about the typical family and the problems that arose when the youngest member decided to go "all-out" for the war effort, provided many laughs for the audiences. The superb acting of Jack Cohoon in the role of the irate Mr. Kummer, and the noteworthy portrayal of the dignified judge by John Ulrich, plus the outstanding performances of the other members of the cast, made the success of the play inevitable.

Mr. George J. Harding, director, and Lorna Jager, student director, are responsible for choosing the excellent casts which gave such memorable performances.

I.R.C. Resumes Local Activities

Dr. J. F. Santee has announced that the International Relations club will resume activities on the campus. The first meeting will be held Tuesday, November 23, at 7 p.m. in Campbell hall. Apton Postl, science instructor, and graduate of the University of Hawaii, will take the group on a "tour of Hawaii" at this meeting.

The purpose of the International Relations clubs is to promote good will and understanding among the nations of the world. OCE's club is just one of the many such clubs throughout North and South America. All students who are interested are urged to attend.

According to Dr. Santee, the activities of the year for the club will include round-table discussions as well as speakers from the faculty and student body. A large attendance at these meetings will increase the chances for an enjoyable and energetic club.

Present OCE Testing Program Head Prefers Attitude of the Smaller Colleges

By Keith Clark

Newest addition to the psychology department at OCE is Dr. Denis Baron who came to Monmouth from the University of Southern California in June of this year.

"Monmouth," says the psychology professor, "is a welcome change after living in Los Angeles." Dr. Baron states that he prefers to teach in smaller colleges since he feels that the educational principles involved are sounder.

Originally from north of the border, Dr. Baron was born in British Columbia and attended Vancouver Normal school, the University of British Columbia, the University of Alberta, and USC. Holding an impressive list of degrees, he has been in the field of education for many years, beginning as a teacher in the elementary schools.

Intramural Touch Football Champions

Grove Pictures To Be Taken

It has been announced that once more progression is underway on the Grove, the OCE annual. There will be a photographer in the basement of Campbell hall on Monday and Tuesday, November 15 and 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to take individual pictures. Proofs will be back in 10 days so that additional copies may be made for Christmas if it is so desired. The price will be 75 cents. All graduates and placement pictures will be taken at this time. All students are urged to be there.

Rustlers Triumph Over Arnold Arms Squad

In final touch football games last week the Merrimacs stopped West House 12-0 and the Rustlers won the championship by slaughtering Arnold Arms 43-6. Claude Buckley's potent crew scored in every quarter in posting their fifth consecutive win. The boys from A.A., playing without their leading scorer, Chuck Humble, just couldn't get started and did not score until the closing moments of the game.

Ron Mollanen, league leading scorer, tallied four touchdowns to bring his season's total to nine, for 54 points. Jim Wilson became the second high point man by scoring one six-pointer, as did Les McKim and Manager Buckley.

Buckley passed for three touchdowns in this contest, bringing his total number of passes to 16 in five games. "Buck" also scored as he grabbed a pass on his own 41 yard line and went 59 yards to pay dirt. Ron Mollanen produced the longest run of the year as he

OCE Gives Dance In Dogpatch Style

The time has come for all men to go into hiding and for all women to consult Ole Man Mose as to their chance of catching the man of their choice, for Sadie Hawkins' day is approaching.

Big plans are being made for a dance to be held Saturday, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m. in Maple Hall. Students are to go dressed as a character from Dogpatch. Shmoos in particular are welcome, to cut the cost of refreshments.

True to tradition, the girls are to do the asking for this affair. Of course engaged and married men exempt.

Society Editor Style Produces Unique Results When Applied To a Lynching

by Keith Clark

The writer has often pondered over the literary form and meter of celebrated society editors whose efforts in the realm of narration seem to follow distinct and regulated boundaries. Chroniclers of teas, ladies' club meetings, and splicing parties all have adopted the polite, educated, sophisticated tone of a matron relating the latest over the bridge table. The writer wonders if this lady-like style might not be adopted by hard-boiled members of the press, whose themes of blood and thunder could be wonderfully moderated.

For instance, a write-up of a western lynching might sound something like this:

"Members of the Gaslight Gulch Necktie Club met on Thursday last in the arroyo behind

T B Tests Available Monday

The annual tuberculin testing clinic will be held at the health service today, Monday, November 15, from 1 to 5 p.m.

Between these hours every student who has not yet been tested this fall term is asked to report for the test. This group will be composed largely of students who were on the campus last year with the addition of certain freshmen and transfers who have not yet satisfied this requirement.

Since a number of students whose tuberculin reaction changes from negative to positive are found each year, it is most important to discover who these people are. X-ray finds tuberculosis, but it does not locate those who have only "picked up" the germs.

The tuberculin test reveals which persons have come in contact with tuberculosis and therefore it becomes an important part of a tuberculosis case-finding program.

Any student who has previously shown a positive reaction to the test should not report for the test.

In response to many inquiries regarding chest X-rays this term, Miss Ruth Denney of the health service states that the films will again be available this term to all persons on the OCE campus.

The portable X-ray unit of the State Board of Health will be on the campus on November 30 and December 1 to make the annual college survey.

This is the same X-ray unit which came here last year and, as before, it will be set up in the OCE health service building. More detailed information about the unit's local visit will be announced soon.

NOTICE!
The Co-Wed club is sponsoring a pot-luck supper for all married students on the campus in Maple hall at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, November 15. All married students and wives are invited.

Grogan's saloon. An election was held and the Cactus Kid was voted the 'noose of the week.' A successful necktie party in his honor was held immediately. A lovely time was had by all, with the possible exception of the aforementioned Cactus Kid, who won the booby prize for attendance. Prizes were awarded foremost members of the club and after the festivities (and the Kid) died down, tea and cakes were served. Mr. Pat Houlihan, who furnished the rope for this week's party said, 'We believe these parties are elevating in influence.' Arrangements were made for a meeting at the home of Mr. Bat-Ear Price on Saturday of next week. Study topic will be, 'Pulling Together for the Good of Society.'

This sort of thing is so much more refined.

Dorm

Many happy returns to Lois Ziegenbein who observed her 18th birthday on November 8, Jackie Cristensen who became 19 on October 29, and Betty Jo Keithley who celebrated her 18th birthday November 12.

Got any gripes about stuff 'n things? Here's your chance to let off steam and tell Dr. Anthony (Jackie Cristensen and Co.) all about it. Just get out your quill and ink and write down all your troubles; then drop them into the question box in the social office. They will all be answered at the fireside on November 17 in the living room.

To those who haven't become familiar with the names of the house council members, here they are: Gwen Stilwell, president; Judy Wilcox, vice - president; Thelma Serbousek, treas.; Marcella Hoffert, floor representative for Mezzanine and Painted Alley; Dorothy Brookman, second; and Dorothy Hubbell, third floor.

Besides the members of the house council there are certain other ambitious young misses who hold important offices. These are: Joanna Clemenson, fire chief; Georgia Priebe, table decorations chairman; and Janet Felsher, social chairman.

Just a helpful hint, folks, and they say, "A word to the wise is sufficient," there is to be no smoking in the living room at any time!

Watch out, girls, or you'll end up on page duty. It isn't hard—just follow this recipe. Come in 10 minutes late for about three times, add up the minutes, now you have 30, and out comes a nice request for you to serve as a page for three hours. "A word to the wise."

For those who enjoy good music a music hour has been established and is held in the music room from 8 to 10 p.m. on Sundays, sponsored by Miss Joan Seavey, dean of women.

Plans for the Thanksgiving dinner were made and Christmas plans were discussed in council meetings on November 10. Dinner was served to council members in the parlors of Mrs. Lorna Jessup, director of dormitories. Several girls were appointed to various positions, these being: Gloria Langdoc, formal bureau chairman; Lorna Jager, song leader; and Margaret Kaady, dorm dope.

Ending this satire with a bit of philosophy: Confucius says, "It is better to keep your mouth shut and be thought dumb, than it is to open it and remove all doubt."

In the Merrimacs and West House encounter, Ted Shorack and George McCormick tallied for the winners.

West House

This week West House bids adieu to one of its most promising members. Due to circumstances beyond his control, Donald Buntin was forced to retire momentarily from college and return to his home at Gold Hill. He is carrying with him a great respect for dear old OCE, however, and he expects to return here next term.

Don was born in Los Angeles and attended school there until his senior year. At that time he moved to Gold Hill where he was graduated from the local high school. He states that Oregon is swell, but that he gets kind of lonesome for the good old times down in L.A. and Hollywood.

During his high school days, Don played at all sports. He excelled at football and track. If he returns, it is expected that he will be working for McArthur again when it comes time for track. This fall, he has been out for the right end position.

West House "fit" all the way through the football season, making the impressive record of five losses and one win, but we had a lot of spirit and more fun!

Most of the boys were not satisfied with the returned pictures. Could the reason be the ugly mugs or was it the white shirts and white background?

Dick Miller has been out of college and home (Gold Hill) for the last few days because of influenza.

There have been a few changes made. Dick Chatterton moved in with Bill Floyd in room nine, and Howard Shull moved in with Jim Hand.

Last Tuesday morning the first of West House's applicants for the infirmary were seen leaving for the high white peaks. The group included Phil Janz, John Langrell, Dick Ferguson, and Dave Atwater. However, they made the long trek to the lodge, gave skiing a good tryout, and returned saying old Mount Hood is better than ever. No crutches are in evidence!

Lyle Hay was a member of the varsity football team which went south. Lyle has a great future ahead. Keep going, boy!

Roving Reporter

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

Do you think the campus clubs should be allowed to put on entertainments on a profit basis?

Virginia Cox: I think every club likes to feel independent and to have money of its own, but as it is now, students probably attend more functions since they are free than they would if admission was charged. Maybe the clubs could receive a certain percentage of money from the student body and could earn the rest from dues, formal dances, or candy sales but the majority of functions should be kept free.

Ralph Gibbs: I would say yes to such things as formal dances where the expenses would be high. Clubs should have some source of income other than dues paid by the members.

Willis Love: Yes, I think that campus clubs should be allowed to charge a small fee for entertainment because many of the newer organizations need to build up their treasury and a small admission charge for entertainment is the most painless way.

Jim Hand: Yes, it would be nice if the various clubs could make money from entertainment. More money means a bigger club treasury — a bigger club treasury means that the club can afford more things.

Evelyn Marsh: No, because if the clubs received the profits, they should also pay all the expenses and I don't believe most of the individual clubs could ever afford to give us as nice entertainments as they do now using the student body funds.

Arnold Arms

Arnold Arms congratulates the Rustlers on their very impressive and successful record in the intramural football season. Their sportsmanship was admirable.

One of our members, Gill Christian, was the honored speaker at Pedee high school recently. His subject was, "History of Man's Concept of God." He discussed the development of man's concept of God from primitive times to the present.

Chuck Humble returned last Wednesday after being hospitalized for appendicitis. He will not be with us for the rest of the term but plans to return in January.

Gill Christian must have a genius for putting people to work. Last week-end he had Janet and Janice Sweet raking leaves in front of A.A. Where was Gill? He claims he was in back chopping wood, but how do we know he wasn't sawing it? We understand that when Gill was asked what kind of re-embursement the girls would get, he said, "Re-embursement? They needed the exercise."

Thursday we were all ready to have our group pictures taken, but the photographers didn't show up until Friday. The group pictures were good except that some of us had our eyes closed. The picture of the house on the outside showed the trench dug beside it, and the dirt thrown up which gave the appearance that we were putting up a barricade.

GLASSES NEED CHANGING?

The student lounge has long been a social center on our campus. Students can drop in there between classes, have a coke, and enjoy a friendly conversation. Comfortable chairs are placed about the room and tables are provided for the deposit of books. These tables are especially appreciated by the off-campus student who otherwise would have to carry four or five books around all day, since no locker system is provided.

Now if this were all the story, there would be no problem. But some students, regardless of previous years of training, are still unable to read a name inside a book. Hastily they grab a book from a pile and walk off with one which belongs to someone else. After they discover their mistake they are either too busy, or too ashamed, to return the book to its original owner. The result? Someone is left without a text and so has to spend valuable money for another one.

Now one might say that the solution to this problem would be to exert a little muscle power and carry the books. But, doesn't it seem to you that in a small, friendly school such as OCE, where everyone knows everyone else, that students could cooperate even more with each other? Friendliness and honesty are two of the most sought-after characteristics in the world today. A college of education should be one of the best places to start putting these essentials of democracy into practice.

—Margaret Mills

HAS OCE FORGOTTEN?

All through history there have been great events which have made holidays of the days on which they happen. We have a list of them we all remember: July 4, December 25, December 7, and then there is an other one. A day that is as important to us as July 4. That day is November 11.

Is this forgotten at our school where the great percentage of the students are veterans? The stores let out, parades are made down the main streets of cities, and grade schools and high schools are excused all over the country. At OCE we have a moment's silence — and no more! How come?

Here's to women. Would that we could fall into their arms without falling into their hands.—Ambrose Bierce.

Neals Nook

Neal house was happy to welcome Marie Dilley's mother as a guest Monday. In the evening Mrs. Frost helped the girls arrange for a venison steak dinner plus trimmings for Todd hall's Rose Marie Floyd and Betty Doolley, and "The House of Eight Burglars." Doug. Sullivan, Al Hoerauf, Archie Padberg, Bud Hodson, Jack Holt, and Oal Peterson.

Mrs. Frost returned for Friday's performance of "Dear Ruth" in which Marie played the mother. Several friends of the girls, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Chase and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pittman, parents of Ruth Schultz and Barbara Brose, visited for the Thursday performance.

The Neal Nook girls are happy to welcome Leola Daniels and her mother who are living in back of the house in a smooth little trailer house.

Center Solicits Students' Help

Do you remember when you were first learning to dance—the awkward strain it was to your mind as well as your feet. Some of us were quickly reminded of that moment last Friday night, when we went down to the high school youth center to help teach them how to dance. It was really fun.

Maybe you are asking why we did this?—Well, it is all a part of advancement of recreation in the Monmouth program. We are telling you because we want more volunteers to help us start hobby clubs as well as to help out in the organizations which have already been started.

We need those who are interested in teaching elementary and high school children to help in organizing the following clubs: arts and crafts, photography, stamps and coins, etc. The ideas are endless when we have people who are interested in helping out.

A reminder in case you don't remember why the whole program was begun, we feel that here is a definite lack of recreation for the school children in Monmouth and we want to help them in participating in constructive activities.

Teachers are too busy to devote all their time and in many cases, parents' time is taken up until dinner, so that children are left to find their own fun until that hour. It is at this time we feel the hobby clubs could be put to good use—so if you are interested and wish to volunteer your services, please contact Mrs. Wilson for a particular job in which you are interested.

Credentials Needed

Students who expect to graduate next year, student teachers and seniors who haven't any teachers credentials on file in the business office are urged to compile these records as soon as possible. Credentials contain personal information, faculty references, training school references, and eventually references that cover your teaching experience.

They are kept on file through the years for use of school officials seeking teachers. These credentials are not compulsory, but are of great value to those who expect to avail themselves of the employment service provided by the college.

Lamron Memoirs

(From the 1924 Lamrons.)

Attendance reached a new high in the summer session of 1925. The staff was added to and then included 19 critic teachers and 26 heads of departments and instructors.

The first football team was organized in the fall of 1923 under the direction of Coach Zeller. They lost to Linfield. Sweaters were given for athletic achievement for the first time.

There was much agitation for the removal of restrictions on playing tennis on Sundays.

The senior class was given the job of keeping the new fountain in the grove clean and shiny.

Hair bobbing was a specialty at the Monmouth Barber shop.

The college annual went by the name of the "Norm."

IVCF News

Dr. Harold V. Good was featured speaker at the IVCF meeting held on November 8. He spoke on "The Thrill of Being a Christian." The theme of his message was from the Song of Solomon and he divided his speech into three sections: The thrill of possession, the thrill of fellowship, and the joy of belonging.

Dr. Good is a graduate of the Evangelical Theological Seminary, Dallas, Texas, and of the University of Oregon Medical School. He recently completed his internship at St. Paul Medical School. He and his wife plan to leave soon for the interior of China.

The program also included a violin solo by Jerry Lamkin, accompanied by Joan Powell. Betty Jo Keithly led the group singing.

The president of IVCF, Jewelle Schmidt, announced that the club was to take charge of the services at the Monmouth Baptist church on Sunday, November 14.

Sports Shorts

By Barney Stadlus

The Linfield game winds up the 1948 season for the OCE Wolves. Saturday's contest should wind up the season in fine style, since, from all indications, our McMinnville neighbors have a fine squad. A glance at the statistics, which stand at no wins and five losses for the Wildcats, would seem to indicate the opposite, until the scores and the opponents are considered. Against the rugged Willamette eleven the Wildcats lost only 13-0. The contest against undefeated and untied Lewis and Clark must have been a thriller. Trailing in the fourth period by a score of 19-0, the L. & C. Pioneers kept their record untainted only by pushing across three touchdowns and two conversions. Despite the final score, some credit must be given to the "McMinnvillers" for an excellent performance for three quarters,

Looking over the Linfield roster, Coach McArthur was surprised at the numerical size of the Wildcat squad. A total of 45 men indicates plenty of reserve strength. The Wildcats are coached by Paul Durham, formerly of Franklin high of Portland. This is interesting because the Quaker school also claims a certain Robert Knox, OCE's athletic director.

† † † †

Two newcomers who deserve recognition for their work in this year's squad are Lyle Hay and Tom Thayer. Hay is classed by Coach McArthur as "probably the most improved ball player." Thayer, although not new this term, is playing his first year of football and is doing a fine job.

† † † †

The intramural season is all over and the Rustlers finished the schedule without a set-back. A cheer for a fine group of fellows and an excellent football team!

† † † †

The basketball season slate is completed except for four unconfirmed dates. In all, so far, the OCE casaba crew will play 30 games, featuring such teams as Seattle college, Pacific U, Humboldt State, Willamette, and Linfield in addition to Eastern Oregon and Southern Oregon. Preliminary examination reveals an interesting schedule.

INTRAMURAL ITEMS

By Don Garber

Another highly successful intramural touch football season came to a close last Monday as Buckley's Rustlers stampeded Arnold Arms 43-6. This impressive victory gave the Buckley men an undefeated and untied season, in which they tallied 140 points to their opponents' 24.

Besides the championship, the Rustlers captured just about every other "first." Ron Mollanen, ace pass receiver, was the league's leading scorer with 54 points. Jim Wilson took second place with 25. Manager Buckley was the outstanding passer, tossing 16 touchdown passes in five games, and the aforementioned Mollanen made the longest scoring run of the season, 71 yards.

Arnold Arms placed second, winning four games and losing only to the Rustlers. In the final contest, the dorm dwellers were without the services of Chuck Humble, one of the outstanding players in the early games.

No all-star team was selected, but some of the more accomplished players should receive credit where credit is due. Men like Claude Buckley, Ron Mollanen, Jim Wilson, and Herb Kirby of the Rustlers; Bob Young, Chuck Humble, and Schultz of Arnold Arms; Olsen, Lyle Winters, and Ted Martin of the Burglars; Bruce E. Hamilton of the Merri-macs and Remmel Nevins of West House would stand out in any league of this kind.

Now that the football season is over, plans are being laid for the intramural basketball program. Team managers are requested to hand in their rosters to Lyle Winters, intramural commissioner, before Wednesday, November 24. Eligibility rules will be posted in all houses and on the Campbell hall and P.E. building bulletin boards this week.

Teams are expected to enter from West House, Arnold Arms, East House, House of Burglars, Merri-macs, Vets Village and way points. Players on Arnold Arms and West House teams must be bonafide members of those two houses. No varsity or J.V. players will be allowed to play intramural ball.

Anyone with refereeing experience who would like to work in that capacity should contact Lyle Winters now!

Grove Pictures

The responsibility of this year's Grove has been placed in the capable hands of Ralph Gibbs, editor, and Bonnie Stock, business manager. They are working industriously to make it the best annual ever to come off the press for OCE but they are having their share of trouble. It seems that inflation has shaken its ugly head at supplies for the honorable annual. Prices, in most cases, are up 20 per cent. It is hoped that the price of the Grove will not have to be increased, but it may be found to be necessary.

Abe Johnson UofO Transfer Does the Tossing for OCE

ARNETT B. "ABE" JOHNSON

Key man in a T formation is the quarterback and on the Wolves' "T" this man is Arnett B. Johnson, more familiarly known as "Abe." Abe's first football was of the six-man variety up in North Bend, Washington, which he claims for a birthplace. Abe is a transfer from the U. of O. where he played football and freshman basketball.

During the war Uncle Sam paid for Abe's room and board in the navy. For 16 months he was an aviation cadet, and he was also in the Bikini atom bomb test. He got a ringside seat in this epoch-making event by virtue of his being on the flagship "Mount McKinley."

Abe likes OCE and was particularly impressed by the sincerity of the students. His favorite sport is not football, but basketball and he should be quite a help in this year's hoop campaign.

Humboldt Trounces OCE 25-0

On a warm Armistice Day afternoon the injury-riddled OCE football team absorbed its worst licking of the season at the hands of an aroused Humboldt State college eleven. The Lumberjacks, looking for blood on their last outing of the year, capitalized on bad breaks and a few Monmouth misplays, and finished the afternoon ahead 25-0.

The Wolves' big opportunity came in the first period when, sparked by "Corky" Van Loo, they moved the ball to the Arcatan's eight-yard line, first down and the goal line in sight. A determined Lumberjack line repulsed three onslaughts and on the fourth, recovered an OCE fumble. This fumble, at a critical point, had much to do with the Wolves' eventual defeat.

The Wolves' next reversal in an afternoon filled with bad breaks, was another fumble, this time on their own eight yard line. Tex McKown, the Staters' 215-pound plunging specialist, took the ball into the end zone for Humboldt's first six points. They added six points more to their total in the same second quarter on an optional play that was good for 50 yards.

For a time in the third quarter the Wolves seemed to get back into stride. The Wolf-pack flashed some power by driving to the Humboldt 12-yard line. Here the locals were stopped, and it was the Arcatans' turn to take over. Showing the same inspired play as earlier, they smashed over for another T.D. "Tex" McKown once again provided the scoring punch. The OCE'ans tried the air lanes in the final quarter, but only succeeded in having one of their aeriels intercepted, which gave the Staters their final touchdown.

The Humboldt team, obviously keyed up for this one, played its best game of the season. Their line play was exceptional and they showed much power in their running attack. The Lumberjack fullback, "Tex" McKown, played a whale of a game in his last collegiate appearance.

OCE, never strong in reserves, was plagued by a flock of minor injuries. Lee and Van Loo were the backfied standouts, and Ramey's punting was excellent, one kick being good for 60 yards in the air.
